

(Video) Eyes on the Street

Jane's Walk, May 8, 2011

Nathan Phillips Square to
Yonge-Dundas Square,
Toronto

Walk leaders: Andrew Clement & Joseph Ferenbok

Thanks:

This walk is based on the “Smart' Private Eyes in Public Places? Video Surveillance Analytics, New Privacy Threats and Protective Alternatives” research project conducted at the Faculty of Information, University of Toronto with the assistance of Simeon Kanev, Silvia Valdman, Laura Kaminker, Roxanna Dehghan, Grant Patten and Jennette Weber. This project is funded by a Contributions Program grant from the Office of the Privacy Commissioner, and so does not represent their views.

Thanks too to Jane's Walk organizers Jane Farrow and Emmy Pantin, and volunteer Christopher Lee.

For copies of these materials and more information on this video surveillance research project, visit:

<http://surveillancerights.ca>

We welcome your comments and feedback.